Bulletin for the week of September 5, 2021 VOL 26/73 NO 36

The background and history of Labor Day is something that would take up a lot more than the space we have here. On a very basic level, it is a time to celebrate and remember the hard work of America’s vast labor forces. Labor Day has come to be an enjoyable time away from work with parades and fairs along with a possible longer weekend getaway for some.

In a time when we think of the labor forces, and often our own jobs as well, we cannot leave out the most important work of all, the Lord’s. One of the first songs I got comfortable leading in church was “I Want to be a Worker”. Oh, did I love singing the words, “I want to be a worker for the Lord” and, “I want to be a worker strong and brave” because I wanted to do my part. The words of the song are great because it isn’t “I want to be a minister, elder, or deacon” it is simply a worker.

1 Thessalonians 1:2-3 says, “We give thanks to God always for all of you, constantly mentioning you in our prayers, remembering before our God and Father your work of faith and labor of love and steadfastness of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.” The people Paul wrote to were different demographics, ages, along with being men and women. We all can do our part in doing the Lord’s work

As we celebrate the labor that is done in this country, take time to not only think about those who you know are outstanding workers for the Lord but also think about what work you can do. Let us all strive to work and pray every day, in the vineyard of the Lord.
