Summertime

Summer for many is a wonderful time for getting outside, enjoying the nice weather, and going on fun trips. For students and teachers it is often the time of summer break, and for the older ones a time for work but also enjoyable times with friends. I am sure many of us have fond memories of past summers.

This past week my step-dad Elvis gave us the material for teaching Bible class at church camp this July. With materials in hand and Abby being on summer break, it brought back memories of when I would be getting ready for camp. School being over meant only a few weeks until church camp. The days seemed to last forever and we got to sing to the Lord, study His Word, and fellowship with one another.

Whatever your memories of fun past summer times, at some point we are left with wanting more time. More of the great memories we love and cherish. More time to enjoy apart from the daily grind that so many of us have. Yet, I think for many Ecclesiastes 12:1 speaks volumes, "So remember your Creator in the days of your youth—before the difficult days come, and the years draw near when you will say, 'I have no pleasure in them'"

Of course there are still plenty of pleasurable days ahead but all too often we get weary and think about easier times. It is with that I want us to focus on remembering our Creator and the multitude of blessings we have from Him. Yes we may want some more of those good times but there are many more days in the future that have just as much potential to be great, especially when we are surrounded by our brothers and sisters in Christ. So go enjoy the time you have now, being thankful for what was, and hopeful for what will be!
